

Duradeck

Duradeck is a lightweight decking made from 100% polypropylene that is remarkably light yet exceptionally rigid and impact resistant. This durable decking creates a smooth surface while preventing small, loose items from falling through to the levels below. The molded polypropylene is impervious to moisture as well as grease and oils.

Duradeck panels are lightweight and can easily be removed for quick cleaning. This makes it the perfect decking for healthcare, food service, and other industries where porous materials such as particle board are not a good fit.

Duradeck fits with our boltless rivet rack units. The duradeck panels rest on top of rivet rack beams and fit neatly into the corners of the posts. This versatile decking also fits with our bulk storage rack units. The panels rest on the 5/8-inch step of the beam.

Front-to-back supports should be used under the decking on both styles of racking to provide additional support.
